

“FLUSHABLE” WIPES ARE NOT FLUSHABLE!

Unlike toilet paper, many products don't break down after flushing. They can clog your home's plumbing and sewer pipes – possibly causing a huge mess and leaving you with a nasty repair bill – and can collect and cause blockages in public sewer mains. And nobody likes sewer backups!

Commonly flushed items that should NOT be flushed:

- | | | | |
|------------------|--------------------|---------------|---------------------------|
| X Cat litter | X Hair | X Food scraps | X Plastic |
| X Paper towels | X Sanitary napkins | X Diapers | X Paint and paint thinner |
| X Facial tissues | X Condoms | X Tampons | X Grease and fat |
